WELCOME

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the European federation of Critical Care Nursing associations (EfCCNa) and the Italian Critical Care Area Nursing association (Aniarti) we have great pleasure of welcoming you to the 3rd EfCCNa & 27th Aniarti Congress.

This unique congress of two critical care nursing organizations indicates the strength of collaboration and motivation of critical care nurses which is inspired by the EfCCNa motto: Working together – Achieving more. The purpose of this congress is to further celebrate and expand on the collaborations that already exist within Europe. More importantly the aim of the congress is to build new international networks, exchange ideas, experiences, and knowledge in order to advance our understanding of European critical care nursing profession.

The congress theme, influencing critical care nursing in Europe aims to address the key issues for critical care nurses engaged in caring for patients across the continuum of life, starting with birth through to the elderly. The programme includes a variety of clinical, educational, and research topics that will have a wide appeal and will provoke the delegates in intellectual debate. All of these subjects reflect on the current challenges faced by European critical care nurses whose aims are to deliver high quality care for their patients and wider communities.

The international scientific committee is particularly pleased to announce that we received 244 abstracts of colleagues from 23 European countries, Australia and the USA. The programme covers over 24 scientific sessions with 112 oral presentations and almost 100 posters. You will be spoiled for choice and intellectually stimulated by the enterprise and inventiveness of presenters. On this basis, we hope that you find the scientific programme an enriching educational experience.

We hope you will have the opportunity to network and foster new links with colleagues. Finally, it goes without saying, we sincerely hope you enjoy the hospitality and warmth of the people, fine cuisine, and the historical culture of Florence.

Be inspired and enjoy Florence!
